

NICARAGUA.

Arrival of Walker and Staff at Panama.

The arrival of the U. S. Sloop-of-war St. Mary's at Panama on the 17th May, from San Juan del Sur, having on board Walker and a number of his officers, announces the fact that the allied forces have at length succeeded in ridding the country of the adventurers who sought to wrest it by force from the rightful owners, and that Central America is free from the presence of the justly-dreaded modern filibusters.

That Walker and his brave men—for brave they certainly are—have not met the fate of the thousands of poor fellows who fell during the war, we are glad of; they may live to be wiser and better men, and perhaps profiting by past experience, adopt some less ambitious and iniquitous road to fortune and to fame. Whatever the motives were (and we believe they were ambitious ones only), that induced Walker to adopt the course which has earned for him so unenviable a reputation, we are glad that they have been frustrated, and we are sure that those unprincipled and avaricious speculators who supported him with their money, and so recklessly sacrificed the lives of their fellow-countrymen to further their unrighteous end, will meet with little sympathy from all right-minded persons.—Panama Star and Herald.

On Sunday morning, May 17th, the U. S. sloop-of-war St. Mary's, Capt. Davis, arrived at the anchorage in Panama Bay, from San Juan del Sur, which port she left on the 5th of May, having on board the following officers of Walker's army:

Gen. William Walker,	Capt. Williamson,
Maj. Hoof,	Capt. McEachin,
Gen. C. F. Henningsen,	Capt. Faysseux (navy),
Col. Bruno Natzmer,	Capt. Hawkins,
Col. John Waters,	Lieut. Bacon,
Lieut. Col. Henry,	Lieut. McMichael,
Lieut. Col. Rogers,	Dr. Kellum,
Lieut. Col. Tucker,	Dr. McAllenny,
Capt. West,	Orderly Fred. Romer.

Capt. Davis having visited the allied camp, and ascertained from his own observations, as well as from the accounts brought in by deserters of the straits to which Walker and his men were reduced, addressed a letter to Walker on the 30th of April, stating that he was aware of his desperate and forlorn position, and offered, from humanity, to interfere in his behalf, and stated that he was authorized, in case of his (Walker's) capitulation, to guarantee his personal safety, and the safe removal of all under his command. He also offered to take Walker to Panama in the St. Mary's, and stated that Gen. Mora consented to suspend hostilities.

The next day (May 1st), the terms of capitulation were agreed upon, and issued in a general order—on the day following the annexed brief order to Capt. Faysseux was issued:

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, May 2d.

"CAPTAIN FAYSEUX:—Deliver the Granada to the United States. WM. WALKER."

After this had been effected, Capt. Davis's next step was to inform Gen. Mora that he was satisfied that his claim to the Granada was good, and delivered her over to him, at the same time he asked him to make arrangements for the transportation of the officers and men to the U. S.

When General Canas took possession of Rivas, he found there some sixty of Walker's sick and wounded—all in a dreadful state, for want of attention, and his first step was to provide for their comfort, ordering large quantities of sheets, clean linen, bandaging, etc., from the Costa Rican stores. Dr. Royston was permitted to remain in charge. For this act of humanity Capt. Davis wrote a letter of thanks to Gen. Canas.

On the 2d, Lieut. McCorkle, of the St. Mary's, was ordered to Virgin Bay to take charge of Walker's men, with instructions to proceed by such route towards Panama as Gen. Mora should designate; and he was further instructed not to permit any deserters to accompany him.—Panama Star.

Walker Removed to New Orleans.

[From the Aspinwall Courier, May 29]

On the 30th of April, after having been solicited by Capt. Davis to abandon his position and to go in the St. Mary's to Panama, and thence to the U. States, with the assurance that he [Capt. D.] would protect all his force and secure for them conveyance to the United States, and with the other assurance that he intended to take possession of the only means of conveyance which Walker had, viz: the schooner Granada, Walker commissioned Gen. Henningsen and Col. Waters to negotiate. The result of their negotiations was an agreement, drafted by Gen. Henningsen, which was signed, proclaimed, and acted upon by Gen. Walker and Capt. Davis, on the 1st of May. It is contained in the annexed:

HEAD QUARTERS OF THE ARMY.

Adj. General's Office, Rivas, May 1, 1857:

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 50.—The Commander-in-chief, in communicating to the Army the following agreement, thinks proper to state that he entered into it on solemn assurances from Captain Davis, that Col. Lockbridge, with his whole command, had left the San Juan river for the United States.

In parting, for the present, with the brave comrades who have adhered to our cause, through evil as well as good report, the Commander-in-chief desires to return his deep and heartfelt thanks to the officers and soldiers under his command.

Reduced to our present position by the cowardice of some, the incapacity of others, and the treachery of many, the Army has yet written a page of American history which it is impossible to forget or erase.

From the future, if not from the present, we may expect just judgment.

Rivas, May 1, 1857.

An agreement is hereby entered into between General William Walker on the one part, and Com. Charles H. Davis, of the U. S. Navy, on the other part, and of which the stipulations are as follows:

First, Gen. William Walker, with sixteen officers of his staff, shall march out of Rivas with his side-arms, pistols, horses and personal baggage, under the guaranty of said Capt. Davis, of the U. S. Navy, that they should not be molested by the enemy, and should be allowed to embark on board the U. S. vessel-of-war St. Mary's, in the harbor of San Juan del Sud, the said Capt. Davis undertaking to transport them safely on the St. Mary's to Panama.

Secondly, The officers of Gen. Walker's army shall march out of Rivas with their side-arms, under the guaranty and protection of Captain Davis, who undertakes to see them safely transported to Panama, in charge of a United States officer.

Thirdly, The privates and non-commissioned officers, citizens and employees, wounded or unwounded, shall be surrendered, with their arms, to Capt. Davis, or one of his officers, and placed under his protection or control, he pledging himself to have them safely transported to Panama, in separate vessels from the deserters from the ranks, and without being brought into contact with them.

Fourthly, Capt. Davis undertakes to obtain guaranties that all natives of Nicaragua or Central America, now in Rivas and surrendered to the protection of Captain Davis, shall be allowed to reside in Nicaragua, and be protected in life and property.

Fifthly, It is agreed that such officers as have wives and families in San Juan del Sud shall be allowed to remain there, under the protection of the United States flag, until an opportunity offers of embarkation for Panama or San Francisco.

General William Walker and Captain Davis mutually pledge themselves to each other, that this agreement shall be executed in good faith.

[Signed] WILLIAM WALKER, CHAS. H. DAVIS.

Present and acting: (Com. U. S. Navy.)

[Signed] C. F. HENNINGSEN, JOHN P. WATERS, J. WINTHROP TAYLOR.

By command of Wm. Walker, Gen'l Comd'g in Chief.

PH. R. THOMPSON, Adj. Gen. N. A.

The following was endorsed on the above document by General Henningsen:

This is the only agreement or convention whatever entered into by Gen. Walker; it was only entered into after Captain Davis declared that he would not let the schooner Granada leave the harbor of San Juan, and meant to seize her before he sailed. No convention or capitulation was entered into by the enemy, Rivas being given up to Captain Davis, and the garrison surrendered to him. C. F. H.

The same evening, after the proclamation aforesaid, Walker, escorted by Captain Davis and Gen. Zavala, left Rivas for San Juan—and on the next day he issued another order addressed to Capt. Faysseux, instructing him to give up the Granada to the United States.

On the same day, Capt. Davis sent Lieut. McCorkle with Walker's men to Virgin Bay, with orders to accompany them to Panama. On the 5th the St. Mary's left San Juan del Sud. At that time Lieut. McCorkle and his charge had not yet left Virgin Bay.
